WESTERN AND EASTERN MEAT HANDLERS SHIFT PLACES.

New Turn in the Unwilling Strike of the Butchers' Workmen-No Lack of Beef Yet-Mounted Men to Keep Order -Little Outbreaks, but No Arrests.

A little more violence on the streets in the neighborhood of the big packing houses in First avenue and much more work inside the packing houses were the main features vesterday of the strike of the 3,000 union butchers and meat handlers which began six days ago for nothing in particular.

In the first week of the trouble the employers have succeeded in doing even more they said they would be able to do when their men walked out on Tuesday morning. At ne time has work stopped altogether, and for the most part the employers have been able to run their plants so as to kill, dress and ship about 75 per cent of the beef handled under normal

The leaders of the strike have failed in their announced intention to tie up the meat trade in this part of the country. partly because of the big supply of meat on hand at the outset, partly because of the ease with which non-union labor, skilled and ordinary, has been secured, but principally because of the unwillingness of the men to strike and their willingness to fool their own leaders for the sake of earning money

The boss strike breakers have taken advantage of this feeling to introduce a new piece of strategy into labor warfare. They are playing the East against the West, and vice versa.

There are thousands of union meat handlers on strike in Chicago, Cincinnati and the other Western packing centres, who want to go back to work, but don't dare to in their own part of the country. There are, or were, 3,000 men on strike here who were also sick of the game but afraid of their leaders. Under the supervision of the strike breakers these men are changing places.

A gang of 100 skilled workmen arrived here from Chicago on Friday night. They were strikers out there. They went to work yesterday morning on First avenue in the places of the local union men who had gone out on a sympathy strike for the alleged of helping those same Western fellows. More men are coming from the West to-morrow.

But the travel isn't all one way. The crowds of strikers along First avenue began to thin out yesterday. The union's mass meeting was not very well attended, and there were not so many men hanging around waiting for a chance to throw rocks at non-union drivers. The absentees are on their way West to work in the packing houses there
As the result of the attempt of the strikers'

As the result of the attempt of the state of a boycott list, the following statement was made yesterday by Isaac Blumenthal, president of the United Dressed Beef Com-

It has come to our attention that the strikers, as a last resort, have approached some of our customers and have threatened them with a boycott if delivery of our beef is accepted. We shall spare no expense to prosecute every case of this sort which is brought to our notice. We do not believe that the remaining strikers, whose ranks are being fast depleted by desertions to plants in other towns, will run the risk of imprisonment in order to attempt to boister up a lost cause.

We are supplying the demands of our customers, and in a few days we shall have our plant running at its full capacity. We are getting skilled labor as fast as we can make use of it and have received more applications for unskilled labor than we can possibly employ. Our attorneys have been instructed to prosecute to the fullest extent of the law any striker who is detected interfering with the conduct of our business.

A lawyer representing Mr. Blumenthal

A lawyer representing Mr. Blumenthal said that he did not think it would be necestary to get an order from the court restraining the union, as an organization, from its workmen were continued much longer.

The outbreaks yesterday were not very serious, but Capt. Lantry, who is in command of the police on strike duty, thought it would be a good idea to reenforce his 100 men on foot with a squad of mounted cops. A dozen were assigned to him in the afternoon, and each one of them was worth ten men on foot for keeping that First avenue crowd in good order. Besides the two cops aboard every meat wagon a mounted policeman rode alongside for three or four blocks till it was out of the brickbat zone and saw to it that it was not followed.

Mounted Policeman Sullivan of the fentral Park squad, who arrested Richard Croker's son a year ago for speeding an automobile in the Park, gave a great exhibition of riot riaing in the afternoon. He started up First avenue as the escort for two of the united Dressed Beef Company's big vans. A hooting mob was trailing along on the sidemyla and a it grows.

pany's big vans. A hooting mob was trailing along on the sidewalk, and, as it grew, getting bold enough to spread out on the payement in the rear of the wagons.

Sullivan's horse was as well trained as his rider. There seemed to be something about the word "scab" that irritated the about the word "scab" that irritated the animal. He suddenly whirled on his hind legs, leaped the curbstone and then side-stepped down the si ewalk for a whole block Sullivan didn't so much as wave his club, but that crowd scattered as if it had been shot at, and the wagons went on without a procession. out a procession.

While escorting another wagon through East Forty-ninth street, Sullivan's horse was hit by a stone. The animal shied and went on to the sidewalk. He fell against an iron fence, breaking out two of the rods, and Sullivan rolled on the sidewalk. Neither horse nor rider was hurt. That fort sented to discover the sidewalk. fect seemed to disappoint a lot of the people living on the block who came to their win-dows and yelled curses at the cop for riding on the sidewalk and endangering the lives of children. As yet none of the children of the neighborhood has been hit by a rock thrown by a striker or symulathize. Richard Sargent, a negro non-unin meat lugger, was attacked yesterday morning at First avenue and Forty-second street. A rist avenue and Forty-second street. A crowd of strikers got him down and then pummelled him so hard that he had to go to bellevue Hospital to be patched up. Foliceman Shanley, who finally drove the crowd away from the negro, was cut on the head by a stone thrown from a roof. There was no arrest.

The refusal of the big packing house managers to allow the independent conforms to hire space on the killing floors in which to butcher their cattle in the first week of the strike was explained vesterday by Samuel Weil of Schwarzschild & Sulzberger, who said that the independent men were still employing union men and that it would be poor policy to allow those men to come into the packing houses, where they would have an opportunity to cajole they would have an opportunity to cajole or intimidate the non-union men already at work. There is no quarrel between the

at work. There is no quarrel between the independent packers and the others, and the floor privileges will be let again as soon as the trouble is straightened out.

After a long meeting of the strikers resterday Chairman John Kennedy of the advisory board said that he had heard from President Shea of the National Teamsters' Union, who wrote that if it was necessary he would order out the drivers of ice wagons in this city who are delivering ice to the patrons of the meat packers.

"We may ask him to do that," said Kennedy, "but I don't think so, for we've got the packers beaten to a standstill already."

MEAT STRIKE SETTLEMENT?

Talk of a Mysterious Renewal of Negotia-

tiens in Chicago. CHICAGO, Aug. 13.-Influences to bring about a settlement of the packing house strike were at work all day to-day. The end of the struggle is said to be only a question of a few days at most. Both the packers and the union men are maintaining secrecy

Since the second strike was called the packers have declared that they would not accept the intervention of outside persons. They have never said, however, that they would not consider a proposition coming directly from the butcher workmen although they have refused to make the first

Although President Donnelly refuses to talk on the matter it is believed that he has been in direct communication with the packers and is the only man who can settle the strike. J. Ogden Armour had made arrangements to leave the city for his summer home in Connectiout on Friday night, but he postponed his departure.

Mayor Harrison to-day received the reports of Building Commissioner Williams and Health Commissioner Reynolds on the violations of city ordinances discovered in the lodging houses for strike breakers at the stock yards. The Mayor refused to disclose the general import of the reports which were presented to him at the same time. After a brief examination of the documents Mayor Harrison turned them over to Corporation Counsel Tolman, who will decide what legal action should be taken.

Business Agent Joyce of the Cattle Butchers' local asserted to-day that 350 strike breakers had walked out during the forencon from the plant of Schwarzschild & Sulzberger. Officials of the company declared this statement absurd saying not over a dozen men had been discharged.

Discovery was made to-day that Armour & Co., Nelson Morris & Co., Libby, McNeil & Libby and the Omaha Packing Company, four of the large packing companies of Chicago, and some of the smaller ones, have been conducting a slaughtering business since April 30 of this year without the municipal license required by ordinance. Four departments of the city government immediately were in a state of agitation to determine which was responsible and whether proceedings should be begun against the packers. against the packers.

FAIRBANKS'S LETTER DONE. Will Discuss Largely the Leg islative Record of the Republicans.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 13 .- Senator Fairbanks's letter of acceptance has been completed and he is now only waiting for the publication of President Roosevelt's letter before giving it to the press. The Senator has returned to his home in this city and will remain here for two or three weeks. It is understood among the Senator's friends that his letter will be very brief compared with that of the President's, and this is said to have resulted from an agreement reached at the conference following the Chicago convention, at which the President expressed a desire to treat certain important questions at great length in his letter. Mr. Fairbanks will touch upon the same subjects, but only to give them brief mention. As near as can be learned by his friends, it is the plan of the President to deal principally with the important executive acts of his own and the preceding Republican administration. Senator Fairbanks will devote most of his letter to legislative acts for the last six years.

He will discuss the money question and the tariff and will defend the policy of the

The committee of surviving delegates of the first State convention of the Republican party which was held at Saratoga on Aug. 16, 1854, issued yesterday a call to the living members of that convention to attend a celebration of the semi-centennial of the birth of the Republican party, to be held at Saratoga on Sept. 14, the date fixed for this year's Republican

He will leave to-morrow for White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., where, as chair man of the notification committee, he will inform Mr. Davis of his nomination for Vice-President.

Showers, thur derstorms and generally stormy conditions prevailed yesterday over the Lake re-gions and the New England States. They were due to the p ssing of an area of low pressure over the Lake regions into Carada. This also caused showers in the early morning in the northern part of the Middle Atlantic States. Fisewhere over the country the weather was fair and the pressure was moderately high. It was warmer generally west of the Mississippi and in the districts around the great lakes; in the other sections there was but alight change.

BUILDING TRADES EMPLOYERS PLAN TO END THE FIGHT.

Notification to the Locked Out and Striking Workmen That if They Do Not Return by Aug. 22 Their Places Will Be Filled by Men Who Do Want Jobs.

The Board of Governors of the Building Trades Employers' Association took a step yesterday which is practically a declaration to the locked out workmen that they must give in or that the employers will return to the open shop. The employers say that they do not want the open shop, and that if the issue is forced on them, it will be the fault of the Building Trades Alliance and the unions which the alliance controls.

All the members of the employers' association received yesterday the following circular, copies of which have been sent, to the unions whose members are on strike: At a meeting of the board of governors held Aug. 12 the following resolution was unanimously adopted, and the members are hereby notified to govern themselves ac-cordingly:

unanimously adopted, and the members are hereby notified to govern themselves accordingly:

"Whereas the unions that struck on the Trinity Building and on the work of the members of the Building Trades Employers' Association on the subway, in violation of their existing agreements and of the general arbitration plan, have refused to return to work; and,

"Whereas these organizations were locked out to compel a compliance with the terms of said agreements, which has resulted in a cessation of work in said trades that if continued will seriously interfere with and ultimately cause a stoppage of work in many trades not now affected, and cripple and discourage the building industry; therefore, be it "Resolved, That if the unions now on strike do not return to work on the jobs on which they have struck, on or before the morning of Aug. 22, the members of this association shall proceed with such mechanics as will agree to work under the conditions of employment as they existed on Aug. 1, and governed by aforementioned agreements."

The unions which have not been locked out have been notified to send representatives to a conference with the employers, to be held some time this week, in the hope that an understanding may be reached. The present intention of the employers' association if the notice is disregarded is to employ either union or non-union men individually under the arbitration agreement as it did last year, and then organize them into unions.

If the men in the other trades not affected by the present trouble refuse to work with them the square issue will then be the open shop.

Lewis Harding, chairman of the press committee of the employers' association, said last night:

"Regarding the contracts which are tied up by the lockout, I may say that if the strikes are not declared off the lockout will not be kept up indefinitely. Lither the unions must conform to the arbitration agreement or the places of the men will be filled. We have given the unions a week to think the matter over, and are in hopes that before the week is ended they will come to their senses and declare the strikes off We want to stand by the arbitration agreement, and the unions must bow to it."

Mr. Harding was asked what would be done if the members of the unions.

"Why, then we will have a bigger fight on our hands," he said.

Mr. Harding was asked how the carrenters put to work by the members of the the tariff and will defend the policy of the party in the Philippines, though of this subject it is said the President will write at considerable length.

Mr. Fairbanke's letter has been subjected to several revisions, but is now being put in type and will follow closely upon the publication of Mr Roosevelt's.

PARKER AND DAVIS CAN'T HAVE WEST VIRGINIA, SAYS ELKINS.

Ex-Attorney-General Knox to Take the Stump-Democratic State Committee Opens Headquarters, With McCarren Directing-National Headquarters Idle.

Senator Nathan B. Scott, who is in charge of the speakers' bureau of the Republican national committee, was back at his desk yesterday. Chairman Cortelyou went to Washington to see his family. He will be back on Monday.

It was stated at headquarters yesterday that former Attorney-General Knox had consented to make at least two speeches at places to be selected by himself. Senator Scott is hoping that he may induce Mr. Knox to deliver more than two. It has not yet been determined whether or not Senator Fairbanks will be asked to make speaking tours through the country. Senator Stephen B. Elkins of West Virginia, son-in-law of Henry G. Davis, the Democratic nominee for Vice-President, was in this city yesterday. "The Democrate say they will have a walkover in your State," it was suggested to Senator Elkins. "Well, do you believe that?" he asked. The reply was that it was hard to believe when the Republicans have the United Uncle Joe Cannon reached this city last night from a speaking tour in Vermont. He made four speeches and got a sore throat, and now he has gone to Newport Headquarters of the Democratic State

Headquarters of the Democratic State committee were opened yesterday in the Hoffman House in a suite of six rooms. Senator McCarren was directing things in the headquarters, and that fact was taken to mean that there will be no more talk of trying to remove him from the chairmanship of the executive committee, which will meet next week to name the date and place of the State convention. It has been practically decided to hold the convention on Sept. 20 at Saratoga.

Work in the temporary Democratic national committee headquarters has come to a standstill. Chairman Taggart and his assistants do not intend to begin actual campaigning until Judge Parker's letter of acceptance has been made public. On Tuesday Mr. Taggart will leave this city for White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., to take part in notifying Henry G. Pavis of his nomination for the Vice-Presidency. Republicans Hope to Elect Congressmen in Louisiana, Mississippi and Virginia. WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.- Hopes of electing the Republican candidates in two Congress districts in Louisiana are entertained by Frank B. Williams, the Republican State chairman. Mr. Williams was at the White House to-day and had a talk with President Roosevelt. He said that a hard fight would be made in the Second and Sixth Congress districts, although there was admittedly no chance for the Republicans elsewhere in the State In the Congress election of two years ago the Democratic candidate in the Second received only 5,014 votes, while his Republican opponent received 868. In the Sixth the Democratic candidate received 2,124 votes and the Republican candidate 678. The small vote in each case was due to lack of interest among Democrats caused by the

of interest among Demograte caused by the disfranchisement of the negroes.

Mr. Williams thinks there is a chance to do something in these two districts of Louisiana as well as in some other Southern States, for he counts on a light Demogratic vote. If the Demograte still remain away from the polls and the Republicans rally their full registered strength the Republican candidates, he says, will be elected.

Great ar athy exists among the Demograts Great at a thy exists among the Democrats of Mississippi on account of the disfranchisement law. United States Marshal Edgar S. Wilson is the President's official dispenser of patronage in that State, and Mr. Wilson has organized a movement to nominate Republican candidates for Congress in every district in the State.

close, and a hard fight is to be made by both parties. Representative Slemp's majority in 1902 was only 218, and the Democrats have nominated State Senator Wyser to run against him.

Representative Slemp is confident that he will win, and it is well known that he aspires to the control of the Republican machine in the State. He expects that a victory after a hard fight will commend him to the favorable attention of the President, and that he will be recognized as the Administration's political representative in the Old Dominion. The Bowden-Agnew following have controlled the Federal offices in Virginia for years, and Mr. Slemp failed to oust them from their stronghold in the State at the last convention, although he made a desperate fight to accomplish he made a desperate fight to accomplish News comes also of stiff Republican campaigns to be organized in North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee and several States in the South.

TAGGART TO HAVE HIS WAY Western Headquarters Likely to Be Estab lished in Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS. Aug. 13.-Private advices from New York say that Chairman Taggart of the Democratic national committee is now satisfied that the Western headquarters of the party will be established in this city instead of Chicago, and the local leaders are expressing much satisfaction over what they regard as a final settlement of the matter.

Mr. Taggart is said to have expressed himself before leaving here as fixed in the purpose of having the Western headquarters in this city. He conceded to the Eastern eaders their choice of men for the executive committee and other officers who will be in charge of the campaign in the East. and, as he is expected to carry certain States in the West, of which Indiana is the most important to the party, he believes that he will not be trammelled in his plans for landing Indiana in the Democratic column.

A survey of the situation which he made it is said, that time and money would be wasted in efforts to carry certain Western States and that the campaign should be made in those in which there is at least probability of victory.

The committee agrees with him that Indiana is such a State, and Taggart and the local leaders declare that it only needs the Western headquarters here to take Indiana out of the column of doubtful
